

View this email in your browser

Dear <<First Name>> <<Last Name>>,

We have started publishing Volume 138 of Promotio Iustitiae (PI 138). For the next nine months, it will explore and celebrate the developments that GC 32 brought about and their impact on the Society of Jesus. PI 138 will discuss the four General Congregations that have taken place since then. We invite you to read Promotio Iustitiae weekly on our website, www.sjesuits.global.

Please write to us by the second half of 2025. Pope Leo XIV consistently calls for peace, but the powerful don't seem to heed his words. Some wars, like the conflicts in Israel-Hamas, Ukraine-Russia, and Sudan and South Sudan, are lasting a long time. Others are multiplying in "conventional" ways, like in the DRC and its neighbors, Yemen, and Azerbaijan-Armenia, while others are broadening in subtle ways, like in Trump's trade war with the rest of the world. Nevertheless, in faith, we are called to affirm, share, and celebrate hope (Jubilee Year) because it's in the middle of the night, when the light shines brighter.

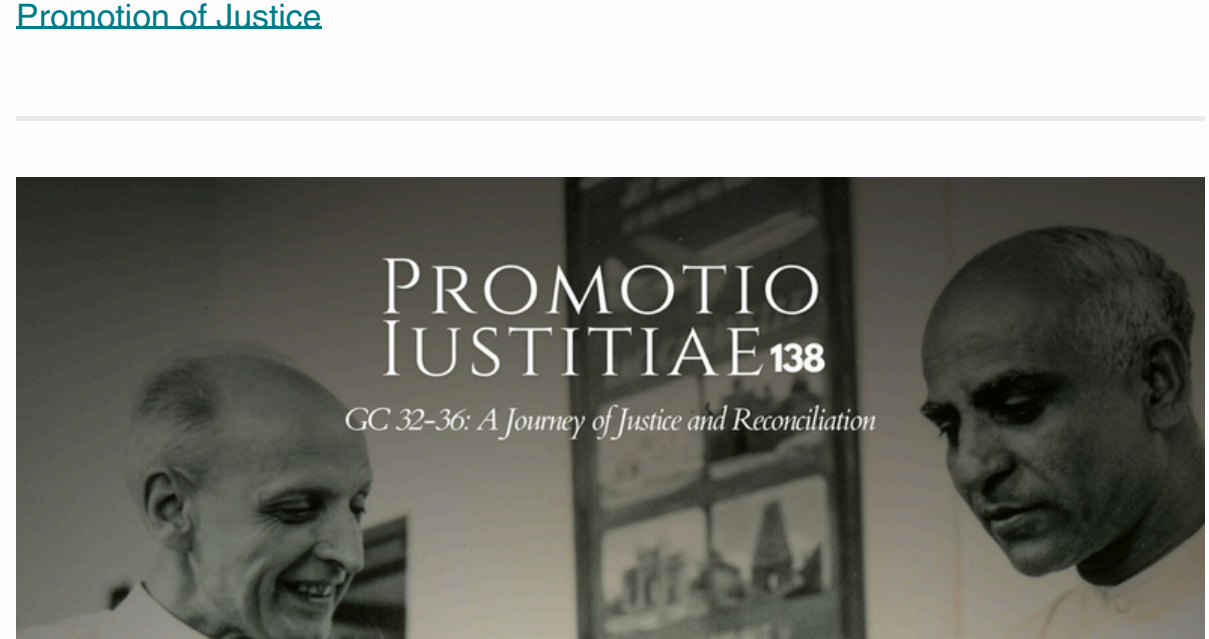

Reflection

This article by Fr. Juan Ochagavía, S.J., (CHL), one of the few living Jesuits who participated in four General Congregations (GCs) from the 31st to the 34th, talks about the history, religious challenges, and key moments of GC32. Read More: The 32nd General Congregation

Experience

José Alberto Mesa, S.J., (COL) examines the history of Jesuit education. He traces its evolution from humanist roots to its current focus on "serving the faith that does justice." Read More: The New Humanism: An Education at the Service of Faith and the Promotion of Justice

Old Promotio

In this historic and prophetic interview with journalists, Fr. Pedro Arrupe, the Superior General of the Society of Jesus at the time, discusses the main challenges and responsibilities the Society faces following the Latin American Bishops' meeting in 1979 in Puebla, Mexico. Read More: Interview with Fr. Arrupe at Puebla

Testimony

Fifty years ago, GC 32 was convened. At that time, Fr. Frazier Mascarenhas, S.J., (BOM), had just joined the Society of Jesus. As a young novice, he was introduced to the Society's radical call to integrate "justice" into its mission of "service of the faith." Read More: GC-32 gives me hope for the future.

NEWS

The "Religious Life for Climate Justice: Turning Hope into Action" Campaign is now live. To make your voice heard at COP30, sign the statement and send this call for Climate Justice to your national representatives.

Read More: Religious Life for Climate Justice: Turning Hope Into Action

Each year, from September 1 to October 4, the Christian community gathers for this worldwide celebration of prayer and action to safeguard our shared home. This year, the theme for the season is "Peace with Creation." This collection of resources, along with the 2025 guide, will assist you in learning about and planning for this season. It includes prayer, eumenical services, and ways to reflect on and incorporate this year's theme. Read More: Season of Creation Resources

The Ignatian Advocacy Network (GIAN) Justice in Mining is pleased to announce the upcoming launch of the document "Pastoral Guidelines for the Catholic Church in Response to the Impacts of Mining," marking a significant milestone in the defense of life and dignity in territories affected by mining. Read More: New release: Pastoral guidelines on the impacts of mining

More than a century after Rerum Novarum, the cry of the poor and hungry still challenges human conscience [...] The Dicastery for Promoting Integral Human Development introduces "Seeds of Hope: the Church at the Service of Food Security," a collection of best practices that highlight the tangible efforts of local churches in ensuring access to food and water as essential parts of overall human development. Read More: The Church at the service of food security.

In a lengthy interview in the latest issue of Migranti press, Monsignor Francesco Savino, Bishop of Cassano all'Jonio and Vice President of the Italian Bishops' Conference for Southern Italy, discusses Europe, the reception of migrants, and the role and responsibility of the Church. Read More: Migrants: Europe without reception loses itself.

JWL offers equitable, high-quality higher education to people and communities at society's margins—whether due to poverty, location, lack of opportunity, conflict, or forced displacement—so everyone can share their knowledge and voices within a global learning community and together foster hope for a more peaceful and compassionate world. Read More: JWL Annual Report 2024

As the Israeli government's blockade starves the people of Gaza, aid workers are now joining the food lines, risking being shot just to feed their families. With supplies now completely exhausted, humanitarian organizations are seeing their colleagues and partners waste away before their eyes. Read More: As mass starvation spreads across Gaza, our colleagues and those we serve are wasting away.

At the start of 2025, the African Jesuit AIDS Network (AJAN) continued launching the AJAN Youth for Youth: Pilgrims of Hope 2025 program, a lively youth-led initiative that encourages young people across Africa to become beacons of hope in their communities. Read More: Reclaiming Green Hope: Young People Participate In Tree Planting Exercise In The Peri-Urban Areas Of Lomé, Togo

Teachers at Karaudamau Primary School, in the rural region of Rupununi, Guyana, have praised the work of a bilingual education project supported by Jesuit Missions. Read More: Teachers Describe Success Of Indigenous Language Programme In Guyana

Copyright © 2025 Social Justice and Ecology Secretariat. All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails? You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

