

30th of September, 2024.

Dear <<First Name>> <<Last Name>>>,

We dedicate this cycle of Promotio Iustitiae n.137 to experiences of the Kasisi Agricultural Training Centre (Zambia) and Xavier Solai, an Agro-eco-Biodiversity Park in Tamil Nadu (India). Both experiences -- in very different contexts -- confirm Pope Francis's message at the 2024 World Day of Prayer for the Care of Creation: "This is not only an ethical question, but also an eminently theological one, because it is the point at which the mystery of man and the mystery of God intersect".

Our apostolic companions who, through their commitment and creativity, dedicate themselves to serving the poor and all of creation show us that "this is not only [about] our earthly life in history, but also and above all our future in eternity, the eschaton of our happiness, the paradise of our peace, in Christ, (hope of the eschaton) by which the eschaton is the point of the Ignatian tradition and necessary during these times -- when consequences of human action have produced climate change, threatening to destroy the planet.

Roberto Jaramillo Bernal, SJ
SJES Secretary

Social Analysis: Exploring agricultural approaches for ecological resilience. Insights from Kasisi Agriculture and Training Center in Zambia on sustainable and climate-smart practices. Read more: Unity in Diversity -- God's Way of Farming.

Social Analysis: A call for Jesuits to lead in environmental responsibility. The mission to promote the faith that does justice encompasses the care for creation. Theological and ethical reflections on neoliberalism and sustainability take centre stage in this article by Paul Desmarais, SJ. Read more -- Not Technological but Theological.

Field Experience: Jesuit Kasisi Agricultural Training Centre's role in agroecology is to promote Indigenous seeds, biofertilizers, and sustainability. Read more: Hope-filled Actions: Positive Experiences of Partnerships and Cooperation.

Testimony: Established in 2020 by the Jesuits of St. Xavier's College to promote environmental protection, organic farming, and sustainable agriculture, the 25-acre Xavier Solai park responds to Pope Francis' call to protect our common home. Read more - Xavier Solai.

Pope mourns the killing of environmental activists in Honduras: Pope Francis expresses grief for the murder of Juan Antonio Lopez, a "founding member of the integral ecology pastoral care in Honduras". He says he stands close to those responding to the cry of the poor and the earth.

Sign the Faith Letter for a Fossil Fuel Treaty: As leaders across diverse religious and spiritual communities around the globe, we call on governments to develop and implement a Fossil Fuel Non-Proliferation Treaty.

GIAN Integral Ecology (Ecojesuit) Report 2017-2024: We're sharing here the Report presented by Pedro Walpole and the team of the Environmental Sciences for Social Change (ESSC) on their actions as leaders of GIAN Integral Ecology since 2017.

